

Madoka Magica: What If Kyubey met Homura in the Hospital

Kyubey: Given the fact that you are in this hospital due to a heart condition, I think I know what your wish is going to be. I shall make preparations for...

Homura: No, Kyubey-kun, you're wrong. I have decided on my wish, but I want it to benefit you! You have kept me company all this time, and now that I'm going to transfer to my new school, Mitakihara Middle School, I'm sure I'm going to meet lots of new friends and won't be able to see you much anymore. So listen closely...I know you say you can't feel emotions, but I wish for that to change! I want you to remember our time together with happiness...I wish for you to feel emotions for the rest of your life! You are my only friend...

Kyubey: You made a mistake, Akemi Homura, but certain it is your sincere wish, so I will make sure it becomes a reality...

Homura: A mistake? Why?

Kyubey: Now, it's time to make your soul gem shine! It's purple...the color of your soul...A very unique color that few magical girls emanate...

Homura: My body...I feel...completely healed! You cured me, Kyubey-kun! You're like my guardian angel! Thank you so much!

Kyubey: Do you notice how your clothing has changed? That is your magical girl outfit. This is the form that you will take when you must do battle with witches.

Homura: Battle? Well, I feel stronger than ever before...And after all these miracles...It's the least I can do...Right?...Oh, what's wrong?

Kyubey:...I feel terrible...I'm beginning to feel great concern for you...

Homura: Don't feel bad! I wanted you to feel emotions, but not sadness. I'm so sorry, I should have been more specific...

Kyubey: Listen, Akemi Homura, you are the last magical girl I shall ever create. To be a magical girl is to accept suffering to the point that you change into...a monster...into a witch...and...

Homura: That's enough, Kyubey-kun! Come here...I'll teach you how it's like to feel a hug...I'll make you stop shaking...and you will feel better.

Kyubey:...Will I...always...feel...guilty?

Homura: Feelings change all the time! In fact, maybe a day will come when you and I will no longer be friends...but for now...let's just be happy! Let's be happy together, because I like you just the way you are!

Kyubey:...Thank you, Akemi Homura...Now I feel gratitude for having met you...This is the first smile I make that is actually sincere...and it feels warm and fuzzy!
